OUR PIONEERS

*All quotes and stories are based on the individual's submissions.

Dr. Anand Bhupalan

To be part of Gleneagles is to be a part of a family that cares for one another and tries to help each other.

Dr. Anand Bhupalan
*Consultant Gastroenterology,
Since 1996.*

My earliest and happiest memory of Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur was when it first started in 1996. Our CEO at the time, Puan Sri Dr. Wong H. O., was instrumental in getting a group of doctors to join and work together to build up the hospital.

We worked cohesively as a group of doctors, dedicated to working very hard and to providing excellent healthcare. Slowly, but surely, Gleneagles grew to become a premier hospital in the Klang Valley.

The passion for patient care has always been driven by every Gleneagles staff; the doctors and nurses, the backroom staff, cleaners, guards, and all those who may not be seen but are integral to the hospital. And we'll continue to work in synergy to enhance the provision of medical care at Gleneagles.

Dr. Chee Chee Pin

I am honoured to be one of the pioneers of Gamma Knife surgery at Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur, being the golden standard of radiosurgery, and the first in the country.

Dr. Chee Chee Pin

*Consultant Neurosurgeon,
Since 1996.*

What drives me to pursue my medical passion is the wish to treat the many neurosurgical conditions and restore the good health of these patients in our community. In addition, the gratefulness of many patients who recovered from their illness enhances my desire to go the extra mile.

With this, I am pleased to be a pioneer consultant at Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur. As a member of this esteemed hospital for 25 years, I'm able to care for patients with the help of Gleneagles' quality of infrastructure and operational systems, the efficiency of the staff members, and the quality of treatment and care by my fellow doctors here.

Dato` Dr. Gandhiraj Somasundram

The idea of allowing doctors to own their own clinics in Gleneagles has instilled a strong sense of commitment and obligation amongst the doctors to the development of the Hospital.

Dato` Dr Gandhiraj Somasundram

*Consultant Cardiothoracic and Thoracic Surgeon,
Since 1996.*

I commenced my practise in Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur in October 1996 after being credentialed. I was excited to be a part of the hospital's journey and envisaged offering cardiothoracic surgical services in the most advanced manner to patients locally and regionally.

As one of the pioneer cardiothoracic surgeons in this Hospital and together with my fellow surgical colleagues, we started the cardiothoracic surgical program by selecting instruments, training the surgical assistants, perfusionists, and intensive care staff to treat our patients.

After 25 years and countless memorable operations, I still enjoy the social and professional camaraderie amongst the wonderful colleagues that I have at Gleneagles. This is supplemented by a hard-working CEO and an amazing management team that keeps the magic of Gleneagles alive until today.

I'm very proud to have played a significant role in developing this hospital into a nationally and internationally recognized centre of excellence.

Dr. Ravi Chandran

*Consultant Obstetrics and Gynaecology,
Since 1996.*

I belong to a small band of pioneer doctors who started our clinics in Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur about a month before the hospital was ready to accept inpatients. From 1996 until now, I'm proud to be a member of the great team at Gleneagles.

What constantly drove me to pursue this was an inherent desire to continually improve women's healthcare. Being able to ensure a good outcome for the mother and baby, and to also be a part of the memorable journey of pregnancy and childbirth gives me great joy in what I do.

Lim Shih Chang

There is honour and privilege in being able to provide care for patients in a significant and life-changing way and that is what makes it all worthwhile.

Lim Shih Chang

*Laboratory Manager, Quality Manager,
and Deputy Laboratory Director,
Since 1996.*

In the ever-changing healthcare industry, a new test, analyser, procedure, and such are developed and introduced to us continuously at Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur. This dynamic field of healthcare is incorporated with life-long learning, which leads to a meaningful career.

I have spent about a third of my working life at Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur. With this came opportunities for growth and career development and after 25 years, I am very grateful to be able to achieve beyond what I had expected of myself.

Mashita Binti Che Inun

Being a part of the Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur team means being appreciated and respected for all our efforts and ideas, working together to strive for excellence.

Mashita Binti Che Inun

*Assistant Nurse Manager,
ICU/CCU,
Since 1996.*

Joining Gleneagles Intan College of Nursing in 1992, my interest in nursing grew throughout my study and clinical posting. After qualifying in 1996, I began working in the Intensive and Critical Care Unit and I've never left since then.

Being a part of Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur team means a lot to me as I notice the hospital genuinely cares for all their staff. Our efforts and ideas are appreciated and respected here with the team always supporting its staff's growth and development.

I hope I can continue to provide my service, knowledge, and experience in this hospital until my retirement days.

Noor Hayati Ali

At Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur, we work as a team, work with integrity, and take any challenges along the way.

Noor Hayati Ali

*Manager of the Cardiac
Catheterization Laboratory,
Since 1997.*

I am so proud and happy to be part of the Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur team as I was "born" in Gleneagles. When I was studying, Gleneagles helped to sponsor my studies in Nursing and the CEO then, Puan Sri Dr. Wong H. O., was the first interviewer I encountered in 1993.

I remembered when we started, it was a challenging experience since we had a limited number of nurses. We had to work night shifts with only two nurses, yet we managed well. Starting as a nurse and now as the manager of the Cardiac Laboratory department, there's been many memories made during my time in Gleneagles.

Working in this friendly environment and safe atmosphere, I'm glad to see all of us working together to deliver excellent services to patients. We work as a team, work with integrity, and take any challenges that come our way.

Yong Yoke Chin

We are passionate about what we do in the healthcare industry. We want to make a difference in people's wellness.

Yong Yoke Chin

*Assistance Nurse Manager,
Operating Theatre,
Since 1996.*

Nursing is a unique field that allows you to enjoy the reward of serving people while growing professionally and personally. It brings obstacles and opportunities that continually challenge you to be the best you can be.

It is truly a privilege to be part of Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur as a nurse. I take pride in being a part of this team that's passionate about what they do. We care deeply about our patient's well-being and want to deliver high-quality care to them.

I'm glad I can make a difference in patients' lives daily and do something challenging routinely over these 25 years at Gleneagles.

To the smiles, passion, and hearts that kept our legacy going.
